Father Alan GLASS

When we profess our faith in Christ we are professing our faith in a person. It would be kind of like saying to someone, “I believe in you! I know you can do this or that. I know your goodness and believe this can shine through, etc.” Believing in someone is a profession that this or that person has potential for good. We see that, acknowledge it, and profess it as true. Well, though this does get at the heart of our profession in Christ, we do need to add some important nuances so as not to be misled.

First of all, believing in Christ is not so much a favor we do for Him, rather, it’s a favor He does for us. Our profession comes about because the public revelation of “Who He is” also becomes personal and real. God reveals the truth of His very Person to us in our conscience and we accept that revelation as true. So this personal faith is a gift and a realization of the truth.

Second, our act of faith is also an act of love. To profess the truth of who God is in the Person of Jesus Christ is also to love Him. When we truly know Him and believe in Him we are compelled to love Him and cooperate fully with His plan of redemption. We cannot fully comprehend Him and then fail to love Him at the same time. A lack of love also implies a lack of understanding. The two go hand in hand.

Third, knowing and loving Him changes us, it doesn’t change Him. God is immovable and unchanging. But we are always changing insofar as we are drawn deeper into either the Truth or error. The more we come to know Christ the more we are changed by the Truth and become more fully human, more fully who we are made to be. And, conversely, the more we lack knowledge of Christ, the more we become less human, less of who we are. So the often quoted phrase from John 8:32 “...the Truth will set you free” applies here. Knowing Christ, He who is the Truth, the Lord, the Son, frees us to be who we are. Let’s take a moment to look at the more technical aspects of who Jesus is, what His name means and what His titles mean.

Religious Vocations

How does a person respond to a religious vocation?

What are the factors behind a religious vocation?

How can we as Knights support and promote religious vocations?

A good guideline is in front of us each and every month, all we have to do is to read the last page of the Columbia magazine. In the article it tells us who supported them, mentored them and continue to do so after their final Vows or Ordination.

My family (siblings) experienced a very proud moment when my brother Pat was ordained as a Deacon in the Hamilton Diocese where he assist the Parish Priest at St James Parish in Oakville. The only regret is that my parents had passed before he was ordained. I am sure they were looking down on that very special occasion.

There are many, many factors that take place or in place before a person makes a commitment, first and foremost is the tap on the shoulder or in the mind from our Lord and Savior.

The other reminds me of a farmer getting ready to sow the crops in the spring. The farmer first must decide what type of crops would best suit the soil that he has. He then tills the soil, plants the crops, fertilizers, prays for good growing weather, and as the crop is growing cultivate between the rows to keep the weeds down.

As Knights of Columbus members, we need to do the same in order to help grow the Church and our Council. I ask you when was the last time we had a religious vocation at St Paul's. We need to assist our Parish, and Priest to help foster vocations. We recite the vocations prayer every Saturday evening and Sunday morning which is very good but we need to cultivate and fertilize the vocation.

I know Supreme has a program which is good but I think the Council, District, Zone could get behind Vocations to make things happen (it would be the good weather).

Contact the Vocations Director of the Archdioceses ask him to attend a Council, District, Zone meeting and lead like we should. Our Grand Knight can only do so much, he needs your support.

In the meantime look around you, do you recognize any potential candidates. You could be a mentor. How good would that be!

BTY -- that means, by the way

The initial reaction for many people when you mention life insurance as a gift is a quick step back and a questioning stare. “How morbid,” they think. While it may seem that way when you first mention it, life insurance is really a thoughtful gift that can be a financial life preserver in tough times.

The problem with life insurance is the general perception. Many think of death instead of the great benefits it provides, and the security that it offers – even while you’re alive. Life insurance should be thought of as a precautionary protective measure for a family unit. The purchase of this product can mean saving your home, sending your children to college, and preserving your spouse’s quality of life in the event of your death.

One of the times you may want to purchase life insurance for someone is when a family has a new baby. It’s a great, low-cost way to set money aside for the future (i.e. college tuition, housing, business start-up, etc.). Of greater importance, it ensures these children will have insurance as adults, in case an illness later in life makes him or her uninsurable.

Newlyweds are also ideal recipients for life insurance. As they join their lives and financial responsibilities, young couples need to make sure that their early investments are fully protected. If something were to happen to one of them, the other may be faced with serious financial hardship. A life insurance policy is an ideal way to ensure their future and protect their assets.

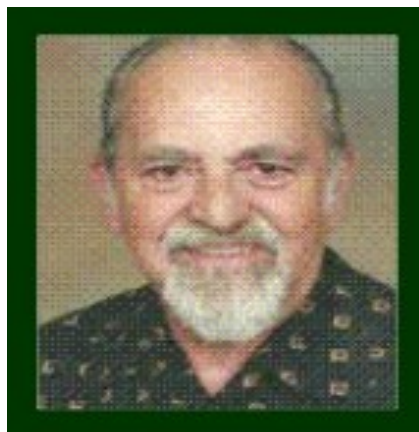

As non-traditional as it may be, life insurance is a wise and caring gift to purchase for many people.

COMING EVENTS

Executive Meeting in Fr. Bennett Hall Thursday, November 7th @ 7:30 pm

General Meeting in Fr. Bennett Hall Thursday, November 17th @ 7:30 pm

Rosary Sunday once a month at St. Paul's before the 10:30 am Mass, members are in urgent need to, as a group of Knights, to say the Rosary at this Mass.

Welcome to our newest Knight Gonzalo De ROMANA and his wife Jennifer De ROMANA

Children's Christmas Party on Sunday, December 8th after the 10:30 am Mass in Fr. Bennett Hall.

HOW CAN I BE A BETTER KNIGHT

It starts with recruiting, the Council is conducting a recruiting weekend and you are involved. You notice a friend in Church and you approach him with a Form 100 in hand. Although he shows interest, he is reluctant to sign. You suggest a visit to his home, accompanied with the Grand Knight to discuss this further with him and his wife. You point out all the benefits, answer their questions and concerns. He signs the Form 100.

You have reached the first plateau of being Brother Knight

Next, you arrange a suitable date for both of you to attend a First Degree, having alerted him that you will pick him up and that you may be joined by others. You proceed to the Degree location.

He is impressed, but has questions to which you make sure he gets proper answers.

Your next responsibility is to make sure he attends the next Council meeting with you and that you introduce him to the membership and make him feel comfortable and welcomed.

Make sure he has all the necessary information for contacting the Insurance Agent.

NEXT TIME WE WILL ADDRESS THE SECOND PLATEAU
